-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2 and 8-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shinkai et al. (US 2003/0141345 A1).

Shinkai teaches a method of sealing a ceramic and metal component assembly comprising the steps of positioning a pure interlayer which may be a foil or powder coating applied using conventional methods (paragraphs 16, 17 and 99) between the ceramic and metal parts, applying a force, heating the assembly in a vacuum under pressure at a temperature of 2012 F (1100 C) and holding for at least 10 minutes (col 3 line 49 – col 4 line 26).

3. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fey et al. (USPN 6521350 B2).

Fey teaches a method of sealing a ceramic and metal component assembly comprising the steps of positioning a pure Ni interlayer which may be a foil or powder coating applied using conventional methods (col 1 lines 46-50 and col 3 lines 14-25) between the ceramic and metal parts, applying a force (col 2 line 65 – col 3 line 25), heating the assembly in a vacuum under a pressure of at least 5 psi at a temperature of 1728 F and holding for at least 5 minutes (col 3 line 49 – col 4 line 26). The ceramic is a form of alumina, titania or zirconia and the metal is a Ti alloy, preferably Ti6Al4V (col 3 lines 26-41). The assembly is cleaned with acid to remove Ni salts (col 4 lines 14-26).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Yammomoto et al. (USPN 4854495) and Byers et al. (USPN 4991582).

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Lynne Edmondson whose telephone number is (571) 272-1172. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Thursday from 6:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
